

Supplementary Test 1

1. Although there are weeks of negotiations ahead, and perhaps setbacks and new surprises, leaders of both parties are ---- that their differences can be resolved.

- A. optimistic
- B. perplexed
- C. apprehensive
- D. hesitant
- E. affluent

2. The losing animal in a struggle saves itself from destruction by an act of ----, an act usually recognized and accepted by the winner.

- A. submission
- B. hostility
- C. bravery
- D. anger
- E. hatred

3. The wilderness is (i) ---- in that it permits people to face an important reality—one that demands much of them as thinking, reacting, working individuals, not (ii) ---- as human machines.

Blank i	Blank ii
A. valuable	D. creatively
B. intangible	E. merely
C. exhausted	F. formerly

4. The revolutionaries working to improve the lives of the peasants faced a/an (i) ---- task; the peasants were the least (ii) ---- of all people, bound by tradition and (iii) ---- by superstitions.

Blank i	Blank ii	Blank iii
A. fascinating	D. free	G. rejected
B. hasty	E. reactionary	H. fettered
C. uphill	F. mercenary	I. approved

Select two answer choices.

5. Her lecture gave a sense of how empty the universe is, in spite of the ---- number of stars within it.

- A. diminishing
- B. varying
- C. enormous
- D. unusual
- E. substantial
- E. limited